Lockers now help to define the modern workplace, personal storage is more important than ever in a flexible environment.

Here our lockers have been used to help create a natural walkway through the office space.

Maine designs and manufactures modern, flexible and useful storage solutions as well as furniture products.

Our ranges are made at the Maine HQ in Milton Keynes, this enables our extremely experienced in-house team to offer bespoke designs for your project, alongside our extensive standard product range.

For decades Maine has been one of the most successful providers of metal storage in the UK. From lateral filing units to locker systems, we pride ourselves in being experts at consulting with Architects, Dealers and End Users, delivering high quality, well designed products to interior spaces ranging from schools to global corporate offices.

What's in your locker?

- Gym kit?
- Secret sweets stash?
- Headphones?
- Change of clothes?

Whatever it is, we know that having that place to keep your personal things while in the office or on the move is important to you. Whether you want to declutter your desk or secure something valuable, Maine lockers have a solution.

SLAP!

At Maine we constantly strive to innovate and work with you to ensure we deliver exactly what's expected.

The modern work-place is constantly changing and so are the needs of those who spend their time in them. With collaboration and co-working being of such importance, lockers have become often the only fixed space you have to leave personal items.

But lockers should be so much more than a place to store trainers and gym kit. They can be a place to have casual meetings with colleagues, they can be a place where you charge your phone or ipad using the latest usb and usb-c ports. They can even be a place where biophilic design can be added to give that real sense of the outdoors, inside.

Maine lockers have the ability to offer all of those things as well as the important standard features such as name tags, key card locking and letterbox openings.

Colour can make or break the design of an interior space. Often the desire to keep crisp white lines and monochrome tones can mean a bright splash of colour is sometimes overlooked. At Maine we can offer any RAL colour on our lockers which means you can add that vibrance or brand reference without overpowering the aesthetic of the entire space.

Aside from choosing striking colours to change the look and feel of a space, Maine steel lockers can also be clad in a range of other materials including MFC.

Flexibility is at the heart of Maine's manufacturing process and so being able to offer as many options as possible is very important.

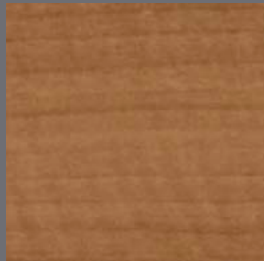

We have a selection of standard MFC finishes available but as with most of our products, we also can offer bespoke materials.....

Z lockers are the perfect product for a busy coworking or hot desking office. They combine the convenience of a standard locker with the full height size needed to hang clothing.

Of course outside of the workplace, Z lockers are at home in the gym changing room.

As with all Maine storage, lockers and filing cabinets, you have a choice of any RAL colour on the doors and carcase and lots to choose from when it comes to security and door fronts, such as key code locking, coat rails and ventilation.
